PIERRE, S.D. - The U.S. Army announced a South Dakota Army National Guard battalion as a region winner and national runner up in supply excellence awards.

The 152nd Combat Sustainment Support Battalion won the Region VI Supply Excellence Award and was runner up in U.S. Army Chief of Staff of the Army Supply Excellence Award, which recognizes Army units who demonstrate excellence in supply and support operations, property accountability and resource management.

The Pierre-based battalion that provides mission command and supervision for five units with approximately 520 Soldiers in seven communities throughout South Dakota was named runner up in the Modified Table of Organization and Equipment, or MTOE, unit category.

The Supply Excellence Award Program was established in 1984 by the Chief of Staff of the Army to recognize excellence in supply operations at various unit and organizational levels. The program's objectives are to enhance logistics readiness of all Army units, enforce the Command Supply Discipline Program and provide a structure for official recognition of group and individual initiatives.
